Victory Ball Attended by 1,200

American Legion Ball At Armory Proves Big Success—Patrons Delighted With Concert and Entertainment — Armory Present Scene of Beauty.

The Victory Ball held by Kingston Post, American Legion, on Thursday, Armistice Day, was a success in every respect. The Armory was very prettily decorated in the colors of the legion, blue and gold, and the entertainment, dance music, refreshments and other novelties furnished by the ex-servicemen delighted the 1,200 who attended the function.

As the patrons entered the large drill shed they were greeted by a glow of soothing lights, created by the artistic decorations that were adjusted about the large lights suspended from the ceiling of the immense hall, and as one proceeded to take his place for the concert his attention was attracted by the novel ornamentations.

The hall was covered by crepe paper which was suspended from the highest parts of the building to the walls, forming a canopy. The refreshment booth was very prettily bedecked with the colors of the Legion and the tables orderly arranged and covered with snow-white table covers. The band stand was very artistic and showed much taste on the part of the hands that so efficiently placed the flags and flowers about the musicians' platform.

Concert and Entertainment.

The concert which opened the program was much appreciated by the large gathering and the Iparrion Troubadours proved that they were not over-rated by the good words the Legion men said about them.

Miss Helen Cashin and Vincent Bramer, as they have done many times in the past, proved themselves to be artists in their profession. They pleased the audience with a waltz and whirlwind foxtrot, never any time during their performance losing the grace and ease of the accomplished dancer.

The Mendelssohn Club under the direction of Harry P. Dodge certainly pleased the patrons by their rendition of "The Bells of St. Mary's" were required to respond and "Swing Low Sweet Charlot" for encore number.

This concluded the entertainment program and dancing to the delightful music of the Troubadours was enjoyed till a late hour.

An Impressive Moment.
The boys who answered the tr

pot of death were not forgotten their comrades and what proved to be one of the most impressive events of the evening was the two minutes' silence that was observed at 11 o'clock. The taps were sounded from the bandstand with the hail in darkness while all stood at attention. And then from one of the rooms in the rear of the armory came the faint notes from another trumpet that seemed to be answer from the fields of poppy where many of the sons of this land now lie in order that America might continue a free and independent nation.

MRS. CHILD GRANTED
DIVORCE AT PA

Paris, Nov. 12 (AP).—The attorney for Mrs. Richard Wash Child today admitted that a divorce had been granted her years ago by the former American ambassador to Italy. The decree was on the ground of desertion. Child gave his address as Paris.

Mrs. Child started suit 10 months after he had withdrawn suit against her for divorce in Pennsylvania.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Kansas City, Mo.—Folks in the Black Hill country where Roosevelt hunted, are hopeful that there will be presidential fishing there next summer. As a luncheon guest of Mr. Coolidge, John Bland of Tinton, N. D., told so much about fine trout in the streams there that the host asked many questions. The invitation was taken under advisement.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The economic value of the population of the United States is set at a billion and a half dollars by Robert Lynn Cox, president of the state board of education. He sets the value of a person 18 years old at $29,000. One of 25 at $32,000, one of 50 at $17,500, and one of 70 a total liability.

Athol, Mass.—Farmers expect a hard winter because big owls with wings spread of four feet are on a rampage. One tried to drag an eight-pound goose through a window, another was shot raiding a chicken coop.

Kansas City, Mo.—When Prince Nicholas drives a locomotive he pulls a pipe just like a regular engineer.

White Plains, N. Y.—Peaches Browning can purchase no more finery and charge it to husband for a while at least. Court ordered her not to pending settlement of her suit for alimony of $1,000 a week.

Orange, N. J.—A gold key is one of the most prized things in Tom Edison's shops just now. He won it for beating three officials of the Lackawanna railroad in telegraphy.

"What do you think of Queen Marie?" was telegraphed to Tom. "I don't very often," was the reply, clicked off so fast that two competitors didn't get it.

Berlin—A clock of straw is the latest sample of skill of workmen in the town of Goslar, Hartz mountains. It is six feet high and needs to be fixed only once a day. Even the pendulum is of straw.

Around the Home

By MARGARET BRUCE

For the Home Color-Schemer

Not long since I called on one of my friends who told me that she had done every bit of the decorating in her new home herself.

She had gotten the unpainted wood furniture in charming designs and had enameled and stenciled and decorated to her heart's content, with a different color scheme in each room. She had painted her plain plaster walls in the softest of aquatints and paneled them by painting heavy double lines up them to a slightly darker or a contrasting tone. She had applied unbleached muslin curtains and bed coverings, after dyeing the fabric in just the colors she wanted.

"But best of all," she ended triumphantly, "are my home-decorated metal accessories—my door-stops, light sconces, bookends, inside door knockers, and candlesticks. I have discovered a foundry that turns out all these things in plain gray iron castings which one may decorate to suit her own taste. You know that ordinarily we have to buy these things already decorated, and frequently in colors that fairly fight with everything in the house. This foundry realizes the need for individualism in the modern home, and simply turns the iron castings over to us, saying: 'There! color it up yourself!'"

And she pointed to a gay cockatoo door-stop, in Chinese yellow and vermilion, on a jade green ball, which was holding open the door to her bright little library, where the curtains, candle-shades, and the decorative book-jackets (which she had made herself!) were in the same original colors.

"Yes, he came in plain gray iron," she said, "and I painted him myself. I decorated the iron wall sconces, too, and the metal book-ends on the library table. You see when you have just the plain surface to work on you can do anything your fancy dictates. You can choose the colorful silks for draperies and candle-shades, and then decorate the heavier articles in shades that harmonize."

"This foundry also makes colonial curtain hold-backs, match-holders and ash-trays, lamp bases, fire dogs, and other articles in the same gray iron. They are decorated by using flat colors in oil paint, in enamel, or in bronze. It leaves one free to work out just the color combinations needed."

Witness—"I've known him for twenty years."

Counsel—"Have you ever known him to be a disturber of the public peace?"

Witness—"Well—he used to belong to a band."

When suspicion comes in at the door love crawls under the bed and eavesdrops.

An elderly farmer drove into town one day and hitched his team to a telegraph post.

"Here," exclaimed the burly policeman, "you can't hitch there!"

"Can't!" shouted the irate farmer.

"Well, why have you got a sign up 'Fine for hitching'?"

Perhaps, if we would recollect.

Perfection we would not expect.

But just a man halfway correct.

I'm just a man who's fairly good.

I'm just like you.

I've done some things I never should.

Perhaps like you.

But, thank the Lord, I've sense to see.

Nature's Own Anesthetic

The fix in the pop bottle has gone up in the world, says Popular Science Monthly, for surgeons are considering seriously its use as an anesthetic in the operating room.

At a clinic recently held in Philadelphia Dr. Ben Morgan of Chicago demonstrated its use before the Eastern Society of Anesthetists. Carbon dioxide, Doctor Morgan explained, is the nonpoisonous anesthetic used by nature itself.

If you are hurt badly in an accident your breathing is lessened, and an excess quantity of carbon dioxide in your blood makes you fall asleep.

Signatures by Wholesale

By means of a device known as the signograph it is now possible to make 20 perfect signatures by signing the same once. Each stroke of the master pen sets 20 fountain pens working simultaneously, and all that is necessary is to fix the material that is to be written on in place.

The United States treasury's office has had crude devices that would make four to six signatures with one signing for some years, and these have been used in signing greenbacks or other official papers.

The Woman Who Is Astounding America Reveals Sensational Secrets of New York's Society

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG

—the first wife of the late W. E. D. Lydig, a New York social leader, and descendant thru her mother of the Spanish Duke d'Alba

Mrs. Philip Lydig is astounding America. At last she opens the door to her lifetime of experience—her associations with the men and women of New York's ultra-smart society. Tragedies that make you gasp are given in boldest relief—and in the next breath she tells you of the ridiculous and often amusing aspects of smart New York society.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle —the man who threatened to expose her methods and even bring her husband to financial failure?

This is only one of many such incidents that Mrs. Lydig gives with astonishing frankness in her article: "Frauds of Smart Society." This article is published exclusively in the December issue of The Red Book Magazine now on sale at all news-stands.

OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered.

People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs.

For example, he says—The love triangle is often a happy solution to marriage problems! One's love-life is his own and as long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn.

That infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy.

That Freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamic marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored.

You will suddenly wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you! It is a vital issue—and will be thrust into your own life with tremendous force, if it has not entered already. Which side of the fence are you on—have you the courage to agree with Judge Lindsey?

Who understands people in all their passions and sham, groping and floundering, better than the author—the real author who does not exaggerate or color—but who paints word-pictures as true and realistic as any snapshot of life!

And never before have we been able to offer you a group of such popular and beloved writers as in this December Red Book Magazine—authors who write of the people of today with a shrewd, understanding that is uncanny in its realism. Such as Rupert Hughes, Owen Johnson, Rita Weiman, Leroy Scott, Virginia Dale, Brothers Burr, Samuel Spewack and others—all names that mean stories that live for you, packed with the pulsating romance of Life—its vicissitudes and tragedies.

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION.

The Minneapolis Tribune editorially declares that crime is our country's most expensive luxury. It quotes statistics charging that crime costs the United States about $10,000,000,000 a year. Loss in loot alone is about $3,500,000,000. Loss in diverted man-power is $4,500,000,000 more.

Each year crime costs America a sum equal to the entire war debt owed our country by Europe, or twice what it costs to run the government. In any one year we spend ten times as much for crime as we have spent on highways. Reducing crime one-half would in five years wipe out the national debt, now costing each inhabitant $83 a year. The Chicago crime commission says that city has 30,000 crooks and criminals costing the city $20,000 a year apiece.

What is the remedy? Is it play or work? Does any nation spend more money on college and high school sports like baseball and football than ours? Do the children of any country play more and work less than our children? A genius proposes spending millions in every state on more playgrounds for the children.

What is more conducive to crime among the growing generation of boys and young men than idleness and spending money they never earned? Nebraska is considering a department of higher education to relate the student with and prepare him for an honest-to-God job for life best fitted for him. San Mateo-Burlingame union high school has more than half its boys working, learning trades, as well as making their grades.

Is it not time to ask our schools whether industrial education of our youth is not the solution of the problem? Are not habits of industry and earning money before you spend it, a good way to reduce the national crime burden?

TRULY AMERICAN.

A notable change may be seen in the trend of advertising nowadays. Not so many years ago, the really big advertisers were patent medicines and baking powders. Today, financial advertising is featured because the public has more money to invest; wage-workers who in the old days barely existed, today have a surplus. Prosperity is general; there is at least a little money everywhere, and the public has the desire to invest. The old day of individual ownership of every business is passing on. Men buy and sell collectively; they invest collectively, to get collective service that no individual capital could provide. They buy as corporations, where the very volume of the investment, and its creed of universal service, makes it more safe from radical forays of every kind.

The corporations of today are "our" corporations; we—everybody—finance their building and buy their products from ourselves as owners. "Public ownership" is here in its ideal form. Railroad, big buildings, public utilities, factories, improvement districts, schools, canals—a thousand things that used to be more or less exclusive pickings for the few political or financial giants, are today for the many without regard to wealth or position.

America was never as truly American as today, with almost every family owning some form of industrial security that pays a profit. This is a safe and sane condition.

"FAKED" SCIENCE.

Dr. Paul Kammerer, the Austrian biologist who recently committed suicide in Vienna, left a highly interesting letter in explanation of his act. He had become famous in consequence of his alleged proof of the theory of the inheritance of acquired characteristics in animals. Not a few scientists remaining doubtful, a close scrutiny of the evidence was demanded, and so Dr. G. K. Noble of the American Museum of Natural History examined the microscopic slides in Vienna, now accompanying to London that "the changes in cellular pigmentation observed by Dr. Kammerer on pond snails were not natural but ingeniously faked." "Chemical analysis having proved the use of ink on the snails," it means that Dr. Kammerer has forced to admit the falsification with ink, but protested that some other hand than his own was responsible. Later, before killing himself, he confessed in writing that he could not "endure the wrecking of a life's work."

Although the conclusions of science are ever changing or semi-materially revised, the average layman of these times, however skeptical in other directions, seems disposed to accept with singular credulity every new announcement as Gospel. He overlooks not only the rapid changes or modifications but the human element among the revered scientific investigators. Like other men, scientists are usually ambitious for fame and hope to be known as the first to make some new discovery or as the author of some new and thought-changing theory. Plainly Dr. Kammerer was overcome by desire of this sort and yielded to a great temptation.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

Dr. J. E. Goldthwait of Boston gives us some valuable pointers in a little sixteen page booklet entitled "Proper Development of the Body as a Basis of Health."

He points out that men and women who have done things, that is Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt, Florence Nightingale, Edith Cavell, Marshall Foch and Marshall Haig are always thought of as standing erect.

The position always is with head erect, chin drawn in, the chest high, upper abdomen broad and well developed, the lower abdomen flat, and the weight is borne on the front of the feet.

He states further that posture shows the rise and fall of nations, as represented by the statuary, paintings and stone drawings. Those showing the straight figure at the nation's rise, and reclining or seated figures at its fall.

Similarly with Indian and Oriental peoples, and the North American Indian, who in his best days gave us the expression "straight as an Indian."

Dr. Goldthwait has been doing research work on posture for many years, and was one of the first to tell us about the two main types of the body, that of the slender racehorse, greyhound, flexible individual, and the other type with thick chest, broad back, heavy limbs. In between these is the intermediate, which represents the majority of the race in which the characteristics of the other two are blended. He likens the three to the race horse, the carriage horse, and the truck horse. He points out that twenty years ago the slender type was only 20 per cent of the race, but that now they number fifty per cent, and it is this slender type that needs instruction in attaining and maintaining the proper posture. Proper posture can only be attained by systematic exercise of the body. Exercises like games that will give strong heart and lungs, requiring plenty of good food, and finally an active digestion.

He doesn't give any system of exercise but suggests that the setting up exercises, as given to the soldiers in the army, give the body that commanding posture that has a bearing on the mental pulse, as well as upon the physical.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Nov. 12, 1906.—Three inches of snow fell in the Catskills. The hotel of John W. Stoll, his opera house and bottling works at Blinnwater, destroyed by fire with a loss of $15,000.

Nov. 12, 1916.—Abram G. Huston and Miss Katherine J. Allen married. The first of a series of Sunday evening union services preparatory to the tabernacle evangelistic campaign was held in Trinity M. E. Church with the Rev. Dr. C. G. Ellis of the Round Presbyterian Church preaching the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Meyers of Fort Richmond, S. I., have returned to their home after spending the week end in this place.

Mrs. Henry Hardt and son, Herbert, of Binghamton, are spending the week with Mrs. Hardt's daughter, Mrs. Ed Benson.

Mrs. Susan Staerker is spending some time with her son, William Staerker, in this place.

Familiar Tree Formation

The same "bottle-tree" is applied to trees having trunks resembling bottles. The Australian bottle-tree is the most common. It has a short bottle-like trunk and dense foliage. Native natives use the tree by making nets of the bark and by using the sap in the stem as a drink.

New Liberal Definition

The definition of "contraband" is, with respect to time of war, "any thing which will give aid, comfort or assistance to the enemy." The United States Congress has during years of the United States defined what constitutes contraband articles.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles.

(Copyright, 1926, by the Author)

French and Indian Massacre, Palatine and Destroy Settlement of German Flats, November 12, 1757.

Pierre Francois, Marquis de Vaudreuil, governor of Canada, was jealous of Marquis de Montcalm's success in the capture and destruction of Fort William Henry, August 1, 1757, and spared no pains to tarnish it. He complained that Montcalm had stopped half way on the road to success, and instead of following his instructions, had contented himself with one victory when he should have also taken Fort Edward and gained two.

Upon the fall of Fort William Henry, Colonel Daniel Webb the English commander of Fort Edward was paralyzed with fear. He sent his personal effects to Albany, and was on the point of falling back upon the Highlands, when Lord Howe arrived with reinforcements and calmed his fears. But the morale of the army was completely destroyed.

Two days after Vaudreuil learned of the success on Lake George, the Indians, who had left the army after the awful massacre of the helpless prisoners, appeared at Montreal, bringing about two hundred English prisoners. In about a fortnight all, or nearly all, the surviving prisoners were out of the clutches of the savages; and then, after a final distribution of presents they revealed in a grand debauch at LaChine.

The campaign closed in November with a partisan exploit on the Mohawk, where rumors that a large force of French and Indians were preparing to march upon the settlements, had reached Sir William Johnson and the Palatines.

Here, at German Flats, on the farthest frontier, there was a thriving settlement of Palatines, who were so ill-disposed towards the English that Vaudreuil had had good hope of stirring them to revolt, while at the same time persuading their neighbors, the Oneida Indians, to take the part of France. As his measure to this end failed, he resolved to attack them.

M. de Belletre, with a detachment of 200 marines, Canadians and Indians arrived in the vicinity of Oneida Castle, and at three o'clock in the afternoon of November 11, 1757, crossed the Mohawk, and encamped at night fall in the woods a league and a half from the first of the five forts that covered the Palatine settlements.

At three o'clock in the morning of the twelfth the unhappy peasants were awakened by a burst of yelling, and assailed by a most active fire of musketry. The French first attacked the small block houses, taking them one by one and setting them on fire.

The enemy was received at the first assault with repeated volleys, but the French advanced so boldly, the mayor of the village in command, unbolted the door and asked for quarter. The last of the block-houses was surrendered and immediately burned.

During the destruction of these little fortifications the Canadians and Indians ravaged and burnt every one of the sixty dwellings of the Palatines, stationed themselves at the doors of each house, and tomahawked the wretched inmates as they rushed out to avoid the flames—only to meet death in scarcely a less horrible form.

Nearly fifty of the inhabitants were killed in the massacre and one hundred and fifty, chiefly women and children, were made prisoners, including Johan Jost Petrie, the magistrate of the place. None of the enemy was killed but M. de Lorimier, an officer, was shot in the right side, and several Indians were slightly wounded.

Fort Herkimer was not far off.

Insects Delay Own Birth

Observations made by a British scientist has led to the belief that if the weather is bad the small egg moth can postpone its own birthday for days, months or years. The cocoon of this type is ordinarily due to open in February, but if the weather is inclement the birth is usually postponed sometimes for 12 months. Moths have been known to emerge successfully after being imprisoned 11 years.

with a garrison of two hundred men under Captain Philip Townsend, who at the first alarm sent out a detachment too weak to arrest the slaughter.

The enemy retired taking with them vast quantities of grain and money, besides three thousand horned cattle and the same number of sheep.

The excitement caused by this affair was universal. The whole of the Mohawk Valley was thrown into the wildest panic. The inhabitants of Stone Arabia and Cherry Valley sent their effects and valuables to Albany and Schenectady, preparatory to following them themselves.

At the time that this massacre occurred Sir William Johnson was confined to his bed with a serious illness, but he despatched his deputy, Colonel George Croghan, to the scene of the tragedy, with order to call "the Tuscarora and Oneida to account for not having given the Palatines timely notice of the danger. It was learned that those tribes were not to blame.

Lord Howe, pushing up the river from Schenectady with troops and militia, found nothing but an abandoned slaughter-field.

Vaudreuil reported the affair with pompous egotism: "I have ruined the plans of the English; I have disposed the Five Nations to attack them; I have carried consternation and terror into all those parts."

SAYS HE SCARED ENEMY TO DEATH

"Confession" Starts Scotland Yard Investigating
12-Year-Old Mystery.

London.—A scene worthy of the imaginative powers of a master of modern fiction is described in an anonymous "confession" recently received by the police authorities at Scotland Yard. It alleges to describe how the writer "frightened" a man to death deliberately some twelve years ago—though, he it understood, the writer does not offer to give himself up to justice.

Scotland Yard is disposed to disregard anonymous letters, for that institution gets more than its share of such epistles. But in the present case Scotland Yard is not quite sure to which category the "frightened-him-to-death" confessor belongs.

Some twelve years ago a man was found dead in a private hotel at Harrogate, well known as a convalescent center and for its curative springs and baths. "Shock" was the only cause that could be adduced, and as many of the visitors to Harrogate are suffering from something or other, in which a shock might easily prove fatal, everything seemed normal.

See No Fool Play.

There was a post-mortem examination, but beyond the discovery of a quantity of chalk in the body, there was nothing to indicate foul play, or even unusual disturbance or happenings. The customary "open" verdict was returned, and for 12 years nobody has had any interest in invoking the aid of the police.

Now comes an anonymous writer to Scotland Yard, who paints a dramatic picture of the last moments of the Harrogate victim of shock. According to the writer, he went to the Harrogate hotel with the deliberate intention of frightening the man (his enemy) to death. To carry out his plan the writer claims he entered the victim's room and, pointing a revolver at him, dramatically declared the time had come for him to die. The threatened man was horror stricken and on the verge of collapse when the intruder explained he had one chance for life.

Taking two packets from his pocket he put the white powder they contained into two glasses of water, all the time covering the threatened man with the revolver. "One of these packets contains arsenic—take your choice," was the intruder's declaration (according to the anonymous letter writer's "confession").

The threatened man drank the contents of one glass, collapsed from fright and died. He had been killed by bluff—both packets contained chalk. The writer declares he removed the two glasses, and left the district without being suspected.

Had this letter been written thirty or so years ago, about the time Conan Doyle wrote his "Study of Scarlet," the police would doubtless have said: "Haw—haw; very good, really," and consigned it to the waste basket, but Scotland Yard is not at all sure about this "confession."

Spurs Scotland Yard.

The writer seems to know more than the average person would about the history of the Harrogate "frightened-to-death" case, and some of the details given fill blanks hitherto unknown to the police. The fact there would seem to be no reason for the anonymous writer to recall attention to the Harrogate death and he brags that it is now impossible for the police to trace him does not cause it to be regarded too lightly by the authorities. The workings of the criminal mind cannot be bounded by the limits of reason, as has been proved time and again.

Anyway, Scotland Yard is looking carefully into the records of the Harrogate "crime," and the suggestion they can no longer trace the writer of the confession naturally has put the detectives on their mettle.

A leading Harrogate doctor who remembered the case observed to an interviewer the other day he would not be surprised if there was something in the confession. "There were many rumors at the time," he said, "and many conjectures as to the shock which had caused the man's death."

Girl Dancers Wear Names on Armbands

Paris.—The "labeled dance girl" with the name of the dancer—Mistelle, Marie, Jeanne or Suzanne—cut out in black velvet is a decorative ornament of the same material, is the new frill of fashion seen at many autumn social functions.

The armband is fixed up above the elbow in place of the more conventional sleeve bracelet of gold, ivory or jade. One particular custom with the letters of the dancer's Christian name, lay outlined in rich black velvet against the white of the skin.

Besides names, monograms and emblems, lucky numbers are being cut out in similar armbands, while another variety of the novelty was shown by a girl wearing a black velvet bracelet, which had a cut-out of a cat as a decoration in the center.

WORK OF SCHOLAR OF THIRD CENTURY?

Michigan University Prizes Bible Fragment.

An ancient scholar, probably the leader of a church, was writer or copyist of the earliest fragments of the text of the Bible known to exist, says Dr. Henry A. Sanders of the classical language department of the University of Michigan.

Doctor Sanders has spent two years working over the bit of browned papyrus, the most cherished item of the large collection of papyrus in the University of Michigan.

"It is written in the Greek of the common people," says Doctor Sanders, "thus distinguishing it from the 'luxury city editions' of the complete Bibles of Antioch, Alexandria and Caesarea, in which the fine penmanship of the clerk or copyist was the observed characteristic." It lies at the end of each phrase a little mark above the line. This Doctor Sanders construes to have been for the direction of the readers in the church to show the phrasing. It is the only punctuation observed.

The date of writing of the fragment is placed in the Third century or the century preceding that in which the city editions were copied. The text is a part of Matthew, telling of the Last Supper and the betrayal of Jesus Christ. It came into the possession of the university two years ago through the activities of its Near East research organization.

The first writing of the Bible was in the Greek of the common people, Doctor Sanders declares, as it was among the common people speaking and writing Greek that the faith had its first followers. It was written from 50 to 90 A. D., and he places the time of collection at before 158 A. D. Later the faith appealed to the educated Greeks and the copying of the men of education is in a better handwriting and with corrections in the language. The late Third or Fourth century witnessed the copying of the Bible and establishes correctness of what Doctor Sanders calls the "de luxe city editions." It is from these copies that the King James and other editions of the Bible have been made up, he says.

"In general," says Doctor Sanders, "the earliest known fragment of the Bible establishes the correctness of the earliest translations into the old Latin and the old Syrian languages as this earliest bit of scholastic Greek differs less in meaning with them than with the Fourth century copyings into Greek."

White Heads Farm Bureau

Syracuse, Nov. 12.—C. M. White of Ionia, N. Y., was elected president of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation at the annual meeting of that organization in this city. He succeeds Peter G. Ten Eyck who declined renomination.

Mr. White operates a fruit and vegetable farm in Ionia, Ontario county, of over 200 acres. He has had wide experience with farm problems, having been for eight years a Farmers' Institute speaker, for five years director of the bureau of cooperative associations of the Department of Farms and Markets, president of Ontario County Farm Bureau, chairman of the community council of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, concerned with rural relationship, and chairman of the Ontario County T. B. Eradication Committee.

Other officers elected were: W. H. Schuster of St. Lawrence county, first vice president; J. C. Corwith of Fulton county, second vice president; E. J. Lohs of Oswego county, treasurer; Howard D. Sealey of Orange county, director. Enos Lee of Yorktown Heights, Westchester county, and Mr. White were elected to represent New York on the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation. They will also be delegates to the annual meeting of the American Federation in Chicago in December. Alternate delegates elected were Mr. Streeter and Mr. Corwith.

Refused to See 'Phone as Anything but Toy

Most people who attended the centennial exposition in Philadelphia in 1876 and examined Alexander Graham Bell's new invention of the telephone regarded it as a toy, and, in fact, many of them believed it was controlled by some one stationed in the basement, whose duty it was to make the sounds which emanated from the instrument.

It was a common sight during that summer of fifty years ago to see people making a careful examination of the floor under the telephone instruments in the hope that they might be able to locate the source of the "hoax." Some people would come time and again in order to make the most careful scrutiny, determined if possible to solve the problem and to find out just how the contrivance was manipulated.

In connection with the exhibition of the telephone at the centennial, it is also interesting to note that no little was regarded at first that it was given no more than eighteen words in the official catalogue. Not until it had been acclaimed the wonder of wonders by Sir William Thomson, later known as Lord Kelvin, and by the venerable Joseph Henry and other noted scientists did the crude little instrument attract any attention among the centennial officials. Then it was that it was removed from an out-of-the-way corner and placed in a position where it soon became one of the most important, most interesting and most discussed exhibits at the exposition.

Directing Him

"Well, I'll tell you," said Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Go along this road till you come to a house with a tollable fair-looking woman on the porch—then my place and wife—and fourteen of the smartest darn children anywhere around, nineteen of the peasiest dogs in the world, and under the house a passel of hops—if they are under there and you holler 'Too wig! Too wig!' a few times and they all rise together they'll lift the house right up, and—"

"Yes, but how do I get to Torpidity?" asked the motorist who was trying to learn the direction.

"Aw, keep on past my house a piece, and then turn north or south—I haven't right shore which, hein' as I've never been there, I always do my trading at Tumbleville."—Kansas City Times.

Midwestern Hotels

And now it is midwestern hotels that are enlarged by a Philadelphia engineer of high standing as a realizable prospect in the not-distant future. He forecasts superlatives on a route between Atlantic City and Plymouth, making the voyage in 30 hours and landing at any one of eight 100-acre floating landing fields, which he calls "seadromes." These, like icebergs, would have the most of their displacement beneath the waves. Exceeding the fancy of the novelist, the ambitious water plan of the audacious but not impracticable scheme puts hotels, fuel tanks, food supplies, machine shops, and even meteorological bureaus under the surface of the sea.

Slavic Love Majesties

The offense of love-majesties has been reduced to the ridiculous in Yugo-Slavia, according to a Belgrade report in the Frankfurter Zeitung. An ex-soldier called an idiot by his wife during a family dispute pointed to his war decorations. The irate woman merely shouted that whoever had given her husband such things must also be an idiot. The abused husband appealed to the court, which decided that as King Alexander himself had bestowed the decorations Mrs. Markovich had been guilty of treason and must serve three years in prison.

Go Home Smiling

A prominent chemist gives the following advice to husbands: "Never take a dinner home. The stress of the day's work may have worn your patience thin. But remember that breakfasted dinner is just as trying to the tongue as any man's job, and go home smiling. A happy home life is the best basis of success."

FOOD FOR THE CHILDREN

MILK is an ideal food and drink for the growing child, but it also needs food to add bulk to the diet, foods to use and exercise the teeth upon, as well as to excite the peristaltic action of the intestines. Cocoa is considered a good drink for children, but should not be given too often.

Hot water and milk supplies a simple hot drink which is thoroughly wholesome.

Coffee and tea should never be allowed a child. The practice of warming the milk with a little hot coffee is most pernicious. Weak coffee has a tendency to sour in the stomach and causes much trouble.

Well-cooked rice in almost any form is relished by children. It should be well cooked and thoroughly soft. Wild rice when once eaten will be much more enjoyed than the polished rice which we buy in the market. Unpolished rice is now for sale and is much more wholesome though not as attractive in appearance as the polished rice.

Rice served with hot milk makes a good meal for a child on going to bed. It is also a good breakfast dish.

The habit of using sugar on all breakfast foods is not a good one. Children will enjoy their food without it if the habit is not formed. Sugar in various pure forms is good for children but in small quantities and after a good meal. The child's craving for sugar is best satisfied with such fruits as raisins, dates and figs, as well as prunes.

Rice baked with egg, milk and a few raisins makes a delicious dessert which may be freely given to the children.

Custards, baked or boiled, of all flavors, combined with chocolate, or caramel, are other valued foods for the child.

Baked potatoes, apples, scraped beef, milk toast, well-cooked cereals of various kinds are all good.

A wise plan to encourage the liking for all kinds of vegetables is to begin giving them in cream soups until they acquire the taste for and enjoyment of them.

SAWS

By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—
SOME people get warm all summer for thinkin' how cold they were last winter.

Unmarried people is lonely by themselves. Married ones is lonely together.

A bad dancer never thinks she's got a good partner. And usually she ain't.

You can't be a bride, a kitten or the newest arrival forever.

FOR THE GANDER—
It ain't necessary every time you take a girl to dinner and the theater to kiss her on the way home. You oughta figure that maybe you done enough for her.

You're the master of the woman you don't desire and the slave of the one you do.

Don't always think a mean looking man is a mean to do you. But don't ever trust him not to.

Origin of "Noodle"
The story received its name from the Illinois river. The Indian word, which "Noodle" is a corruption, is said by some authorities to mean "the river of men." Just why the Indians so called the river is not known.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

ABOUT OURSELVES

YOU read that a great European savant says that the surgical experiences of the war proved that the thinking power of a man rests, not inside of his skull, as all physiologists have thought for centuries, but is located somewhere else in the body at a point as yet undetermined. Why within the body? What is thought? Why must it have any material abiding place?

Do you ever think how little we know about ourselves and the things that constantly happen to us?

What is sleep and why does it come to us? No one knows.

Why do we become fatigued and our muscles growing tired refuse to act?

The same materials of which our bodies are made, water, iron, lime, phosphorus and the other chemical constituents, when used by themselves or in combination similar to flesh and bone and muscle, do not grow tired.

Why should they acquire fatigue simply because they, in your particular case, make up your body?

What is a dream? Where does it come from and where does it go?

Why have the animals senses of which man knows nothing?

If man is the result of evolution from the animal what became of all the faculties which the horse and the cow, the bird and the fish, the dog and the ant have, but which we do not possess?

Why can a lobster which loses a claw grow another, but a man who loses a leg remains crippled?

Why does the hair stop growing at the line of the forehead and what keeps the heart from getting tired?

There are a thousand questions that you can ask about yourself that no one can answer.

The European authority who says our thinking power is at some other place than within the convolutions of the physical brain may be right.

Wherever it is, the power of thinking is much more important than where the thinking is done.

It is the most important faculty that man has, although it is too often the one least used.

Every man and woman should devote some time each day to honest thinking about some serious subject. There is nothing that will help you to think more than reading. READ AND THINK.

If you read you WILL think and if you think you WILL read. Do both.
(A. 1224, Western Newspaper Union.)

Activities at The High School

Saturday afternoon will be the last chance for football fans to see the K. H. S. varsity team play on the home field. Saturday at the Fair Grounds, Peekskill High School will play here.

Cross Country.
The Cross Country team meets Troy here Saturday afternoon. The start will probably begin at the rear of the High School and then on over to the golf links.

Armistice Day.
Armistice Day was observed fittingly at the High School. At the usual Thursday morning assembly Patriotic songs were sung. Tudor Maroon read Mayor Dempsey's proclamation regarding the observance of Armistice Day in Kingston.

At eleven o'clock a short bell sounded and immediately the school soon rang with the clear notes of Martin Spiegler sounding the taps.

In front of the Bronze Tablet containing the names of the students of K. H. S. who died in the war was placed the American Flag and a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. During the war the high school bought some bonds and since then each year the interest of these go to pay for suitable tributes to our dead.

Red Cross Pays Tribute to Block

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross held on November 9, at the court house, Kingston, there were present among others Mrs. C. W. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Mary Hayes, Mrs. T. J. Hickey, Delancey N. Matthews, Hon. James Jenkins, Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Hon. Martin Cantine, Sylvanus Van Aken, E. E. Oughel- tree.

Mr. Matthews, chairman, stated the object of the meeting was to take suitable action on the death of Hon. Morris Block, mayor of the city of Kingston and the vice-chairman of the Chapter.

The chairman appointed Hon. James Jenkins and Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck a committee to draft a minute expressing the Chapter's sorrow of the passing of its vice-chairman.

Resolution Adopted.
Judge Jenkins for the committee reported the following resolution:
The Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross with profound sorrow announces the death since its last meeting of Morris Block, its vice-chairman; a man highly appreciated by this society for his devotion to its cause; he served it not perfunctorily and by lip service but with wholehearted interest. It was his pleasure to help others. He was naturally endowed with intelligence and a desire to serve, qualifications which made him a valuable member of this society. In his dealings he was courteous and considerate of others. He was an honorable and upright man.

Resolved, that the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross enter this memorandum in full upon its minutes and that a copy attested by its secretary be forwarded to the members of Mayor Block's family.

Judge Hasbrouck's Tribute.
Judge Hasbrouck in support of the resolution paid a deserved tribute to the memory of the departed, saying:

Mr. Chairman: It was my fortune to have known our vice chairman, Morris Block, ever since I set up a law office in Rondout in 1883. I, too, had the pleasure of knowing the wonderful woman who mothered him. He enjoyed the heritage of good brains, and he made good use of them. He did his own thinking. He was staunchly independent. He did not fear to stand alone, and yet he delighted in his associations with his fellows. He possessed a remarkable insight in community needs. He knew instinctively the place of want, misery and sorrow and his feet knew no such hurry as in performing the office of relief. He loved righteousness and walked humbly before his God.

He was so broad that racial distinctions and creeds grew pale in the presence of his love of his country and his countrymen. He cherished ideals of service and philanthropy and he found in the Red Cross an instrumentality for his activities which he lovingly pursued until for him the light failed. His was the great heart, devoted to the service of the public, his fellow citizens, the relief of the poor, the sick and the unfortunate.

At his death the multitude stand aghast and realize that in his passing the friends of good government and good citizenship have lost a valiant champion.

Mr. Chairman, I second the resolution offered by Judge Jenkins.

Martin Cantine's Tribute.

Hon. Martin Cantine, then addressed the meeting as follows:

Mr. Chairman and members of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross: I am not a citizen of Kingston but was born in Ulster county and have visited your good city since childhood. At this time of your great sorrow and loss I cannot refrain from expressing my feelings and respect for Morris Block. Our associations have been many and of varied subjects over a long period of years but practically all concerning charity, the good and welfare of our country and its people. Never did he lend a deaf ear but gave of his best whether it was financially or in his wise counsel and work. He had a broad mind and was a keen and just thinker. To him was not the thought of himself but what can I do for the help of others in an honest and appropriate and American way. I am proud to have known and to have been associated with him. The family and your citizens have my deepest sympathy.

Judge Jenkins said:
No one can give a character sketch of a man such as Mr. Cantine and Judge Hasbrouck have given without fully understanding the man. The associations between Mayor Block, Mr. Cantine and Judge Hasbrouck have enabled them to give this most excellent analysis of Mayor Block's qualities. For the last two and a half years I have been intimately associated with Morris Block, being brought into contact with him through the many municipal problems confronting him. His was a keen intellect. He was a born and trained executive. His mastery of details coupled with his ability to see an entire plan, accomplished much for his city. He was great because he served and loved to serve. He was chief among us because he ministered unto us. There was not a grain of selfishness in his make-up. This Chapter of the Red Cross has lost a valued member.

Upon motion of Mr. Cantine the report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

As a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased the meeting then adjourned.

Yellow Jackets Meet Westchester

At 2:30 On The Fair Grounds Sunday—Westchester Professionals Composed of Stars And Claimants Of County Championship.

The Yellow Jackets will take on one of the strongest football eleven of their season's career Sunday when they meet the Westchester Professionals, claimants of the championship of Westchester County, at the Fair Grounds gridiron.

This team carries a squad of twenty-seven players, the actual team averaging 170 pounds. It is a strong outfit composed of a flashy array of former high school, preparatory school, and college stars.

Some of the schools represented on this squadron are: C. C. N. Y., Middlebury, Conn.; Agassiz, Penn. M. C., Temple, Norwick; Muhlenberg, DeWitt Clinton H. S.; Erasmus, H. S., Fordham Prep.; New Rochelle H. S.; Yonkers H. S.; Rye H. S. and Stuyvesant H. S.

Coach F. S. Foster of this Westchester aggregation has one of the strongest pro teams in that area. This scholastic-collegiate team will no doubt come the closest to severing the Yellow Jacket winning streak of any team this season. It will be the sixth game of the Kingston cohorts and if they are able to weather this unusually difficult battle, they will have a splendid chance to wade through the remainder of their games undefeated.

Coaches Preston and Olsson have been drilling their warriors hard this week, realizing it will be the toughest outfit their men have run up against this season. The visiting band will make the trip by bus, arriving in Kingston at 1 o'clock. This will give the players ample time to dress so the game can start at 2:30 sharp.

Final "Big Three" Battle Saturday

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Old Nassau gathered her grim gridiron cohorts today for the last "big three" championship battle.

Under a drab November sky that closed behind the piling shafts of Harvard-Princeton strife, the Tigers passed through their final practice drill for tomorrow's battle against Yale. With the game, the Yale-Princeton-Harvard series will pass through the closing chapter of its historic record, for Princeton has terminated athletic relations with Harvard.

Victory and a second consecutive championship as their final contribution to the series loomed for Princeton, and Coach Bill Roper was smiling.

As they prepared for their departure from New Haven after a farewell ovation from 2,000 undergraduates, Yale men were heartened by reports that two star backs, Bill Kline and Larry Noble, might take part in the conflict. Kline, who was called away by the death of his mother, is expected to rejoin the Blue squad in Tigertown tomorrow morning, while Noble, the team's most brilliant ball-carrier, gave indication of being sufficiently recovered from injuries to play at least part of the game.

Ray Schalk Will Succeed Collins

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—Ray Schalk, diminutive backstop, who has accumulated a mittful of records in the 1,600 games he has caught for the Chicago White Sox, will be out to capture a few managerial records next season.

The fiery platoon, who couldn't find a Sox uniform small enough to fit him when he joined the team fourteen years ago, has been named pilot of the South Siders by President Charles A. Comiskey, succeeding Eddie Collins, manager the last two seasons.

Collins, once a member of the famous $100,000 infield of the Philadelphia Athletics, probably will be given his unconditional release, and may return to the team he left eleven years ago. Walvers have been asked on the former Keystone kink.

Mr. Comiskey offered little comment on the change other than a statement that "Schalk always gave the game his best efforts and has been one of the hardest workers on the club, and I feel that he is entitled to the chance of leading the club which he has served so well."

Schalk said he expected to be working behind the bat as usual next season, besides handling the team. "I feel that we have a pretty good ball team now," he said, "but of course we will try to build it still stronger. I can see where we need some building up on the infield and perhaps on the pitching staff, but those things will be taken care of later." His contract is for one year.

Sport Briefs Of All Sorts

(By The Associated Press).

College football has nothing to fear from the professional gambler, says Wall Street. Explaining that the game is too difficult for them to "dope out," one firm estimated week-end wagers at only $300,000 as compared with $3,000,000 bet on the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Winter golf in the east has arrived. At the request of Jess Sweetser, first American born amateur to win the British championship, golfers will stage a tournament next month at Absecon, N. J., for the National Tuberculosis Association. Sweetser is making a fight for health at Asheville, N. C.

Harry Wills, his injured right arm on the mend, has decided to make a comeback, says Tex Rickard. A fight between the veteran Negro and Harry Persson, Swedish heavyweight, is planned by Rickard.

Notre Dame, home of mighty football teams, also has become a school for coaches. Twenty-seven products of Knute Rockne's genius are acting as mentors at various universities this season.

A new 75 foot waterline racing sloop, the largest to be constructed in this country since the Resolute Vanitie and Defiance, will cruise over American waters next season. An order for the craft, which will cost $200,000, was placed with the Herschell company yesterday.

De Molay Bow To Red Shields

Ensign Miller's remarkable Red shield Salvation Army team advanced one more step toward fame, Wednesday evening, when it trimmed the De Molay five on the North front street court by a 63 to 39 score. The Masonic aggregation was conceded to be a very strong team but was unsuccessful in overpowering the Miller-men.

The De Molays held their own with the Red Shields at the start but could do little after the contest got under full swing. Hank Dittus played exceptionally well for the De Molays, casing several one hand shots. He led the scoring for his team with eleven markers. Clarke also came through with ten markers while Ed Messenger played a speedy floor game. Jimmy Merritt led the point gathering for the Red Shields with twenty-one markers. Dan Joyce followed with nineteen. Wesley Hyatt was also way up in the scoring with seven-teen points.

Wants Another Star Like Friedman

Benny Friedman, all-American quarterback in 1925 and captain of this year's Michigan team, is unsurpassed as a leader on the gridiron. The photograph shows Friedman kicking. Coach Yost is praying that some day he will get another star like him. Last year the Wolverines had wonderful success on the gridiron and the fact that Benny is back augurs well for success again this year. Yost is shown on the left in the photograph.

A brief account of the first half-minute of the Michigan-Wisconsin game at Madison last October will give you an idea of Friedman's capabilities. Doyle Harmon kicked off for the Badgers and it was Michigan's ball on its own 40-yard line. Wisconsin naturally expected a running play, but they didn't know the Wolverine quarterback. Benny took the ball from center in a short punt formation and shot a 30-yard pass to Gregory, who ran the remaining 30 yards to a touchdown. Friedman then kicked the goal for the extra point, and Doyle Harmon kicked off again—this time right into the hands of Benny Friedman. All Benny did was to run 80 yards through the whole Badger team for a touchdown and then kick the goal! And just 37 seconds of play had elapsed! Wisconsin was getting acquainted with Benny now.

Coach Says "Bill" West Entire Line by Himself

"Bill" West, captain of Western Reserve university, one of the two Cleveland entries in the Ohio conference loop this season, is one man upon whom Gordon Locke, former Iowa fish and new Pioneer mentor, is banking upon heavily this season.

Bill is almost a line unto himself. West stands 6 feet 3 inches in height, shakes the scales at 203 pounds and can step the century in 10.3 seconds with his football cleats on.

He's a tackle, and for the last two years an all-conference choice.

In the two seasons West has played on the Pioneer squad he has failed to miss a single minute of playing time and has never had time called out for any injury. Not only that, but he has attended every practice in those two seasons, which is quite some record.

Reds Have "Find"

Red Lucas, pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, has developed into one of the "finds" of the season. He is also a heavy hitter.

Football Coaches Favor Ban on Grid "Scouting"

A poll of eastern football coaches on the question of scouting opponents precipitated when Tad Jones and Bill Roper of Princeton signed an agreement to put an end to the practice, finds a great majority in favor of abolishing scouting.

Coaches favoring scouting follow: Jess Hawley, Dartmouth; Reggie Brown, Boston university.

Opposed—Tad Jones, Yale; Bill Roper, Princeton; Lou Young, Pennsylvania; Hugo Berdek, Penn state; Cleo O'Donnell, Holy Cross; Charles Crowley, Columbia; Henry White, Amherst; Tuss McLaughry, Brown; Frank Garzan, Fordham; G. H. McCracken, Lafayette; Percy Wendell, Lehigh.

Reds Only Club to Win Edge on the Cardinals

The St. Louis Cardinals won a majority of their games with every club of the circuit save the Cincinnati Reds, their nearest rivals for the pennant.

The Reds had a six game edge on the Cards, winning 14 of the 20 games played. That's quite a margin, but it wasn't sufficient to enable the Reds to combine to beat out the Missouri twopenn, mainly because the Reds could do but little against the Cubs and the Giants.

Next to the Reds, the Cards found the Cubs and Giants the toughest, but Hornsby and his men were much more successful against these two clubs than was Cincinnati.

Canoe Cool

This bright juvenile craft is generally supposed to have earned its name from "canoeing," colloquially pronounced "canal." As it is very easily handled, it may be traced to the Welsh word for "canoe," "canol," pronounced very much like canal.

Sporting Squibs

There are between 30 and 40 models of types of baseball bats.

University of Chicago sells season tickets for six home football games for $14.

Ty Cobb is said to be the first man that ever ran a ball player's salary into $1,000,000.

University of Detroit broke into football back in 1890. This is the school's thirtieth season.

One of the newest sporting novelties in England is soccer on motor-cycles played at the Crystal Palace, London.

The name "tennis," as well as the game, came from France. Originally the word was "tenz," meaning take, or receive.

Since he took charge of football at Notre Dame in 1917, Coach Rockne's teams have lost only six games out of eighty-five.

John and Jess Rife, brothers, both played with the University of Kentucky baseball club and are now with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bowling and billiards are the only two of the popular pastimes in which the number of participants exceeds the number of spectators.

Bobby Vaughan, New York Yankee infielder half a generation ago, is now one of the leading golfers of the Tacoma Country and Golf club.

Despite the fact that he is only twenty-seven years old, George Uhle, "iron man" of the Cleveland Indians, has spent eight years in the major leagues.

While practically all football coaches are former college players, there has been no outstanding exponent of the gridiron play who was a star on the playing field.

Considering the accuracy with which an American catcher could toss a bomb, it is just as well for the politicians that baseball never took hold abroad.

Yale won the first football championship of America in 1875, when the Bulldog defeated Harvard, Princeton and Columbia. Harvard won its first title in 1880.

Ex-Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany, now forty-four years old, is still a frequent player on the tennis courts of the Rot Weiss club at Gernsheim, Germany.

In the light of modern boxing methods, there are some who hold that David was able to put over the winning punch while Goliath was rearing the gate.

An increasing interest in golf is being displayed in Italy. One course alone, the Strom Golf club, high above Lake Maggiore, is about to double its present 3,000-yard course.

Harry Layne, recently acquired by the St. Louis Cardinals from Peoria in the Three-I league, is considered one of the fastest runners in base ball, having lowered the record of Maurice Archibald in circling the bases by one-fifth of a second.

University of Michigan will use Perry field for football for the last time this year. It is the oldest in the western conference. The Big Ten institutions will provide more than 50,000 regular seats and 12,000 temporary stands for matches this fall.

Mistake in Oil
Fatal to Baby

Corning, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—A dose of camphorated oil, given in mistake for castor oil by Mrs. Samuel A. Jack, of Corning, resulted in the death of her six months' old daughter, Margaret Dorothy, it was revealed today. The mother had been rubbing the child with camphorated oil to relieve a cold, and deciding to give her castor oil, she picked up the bottle by mistake.

Mrs. Jack took the baby to Corning Hospital after an hour and a half, being unable to locate a physician, but the poison had so permeated the child's system that medical attention was useless.

and Commercial

New York, Nov. 12 (AP).—Stock prices surged upward today on heavy buying for both accounts. Expansion of public interest was indicated by the broadening demand for stocks, which went over three score issues up one to five points. Pools were again active in a number of specialties. Bear trader made little effort to oppose the advance except in the food and banking shares, which showed a temporary spell of weakness on what appeared to be a drive of the short interest.

The unusually large extra cash dividend on General Motors in the face of recent curtailment of sales and production in the automotive industry was construed as an expression of confidence in the future of business by operators working on the side of higher prices. The increase from $9.1 to $4.5 per cent in the reserve ratio of the New York Federal Reserve Bank during the past week offered further testimony to the case of credit conditions. Prompt subscription of about $50,000,000 in new bond offerings today also was favorably regarded.

Failure of the directors of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey to take action today on the retirement of the preferred stock caused no serious concern, as the official statement of the company set forth that the plan was still under discussion.

Bullwhip led the advance in Standard Industrials by climbing four points to 124 1/2, the highest price in months. General Motors recorded an early gain of 3 points before it encountered a heavy volume of profit taking and some short selling. U. S. Steel touched 151 1/2, the highest price in over a month.

Among the many issues to sell 5 to 10 points higher were United States Cast Iron Pipe, Woolworth, South Porto Rican Sugar, Atlantic Coast Line, Dupont, Otis Elevator and International Harvester.

Emmanuel Chapter, No. 517, O. E. S., of Saukerties, tendered a reception to R. W. Odell F. Johnston, assistant grand lecturer of the Greene-Elster district at their rooms, Masonic Hall, Wednesday evening. Despite the storm the meeting was largely attended and was most enthusiastic because of the recognition that had come to this chapter. Many past and present grand officers were present including M. W. Grace V. Morrill of Kingston, Grand Trustee R. W. Bertha M. Bayler, District Deputy Grand Master R. W. Ethel M. Jones, Grand Representative R. W. Flora L. Ostrander, P. Grand Martha R. W. Nellie Van Keulen of Ellenville and R. W. Florence Cook of Catskill, R. W. Charles Vedder, P. A. G. L., and many others. During the evening a very fine entertainment was given and speeches were made by all visiting grand officers. Many gifts were presented. Eight Worshipful Past, Abled, master of Wiltwyck Lodge, presented a suit case in behalf of the lodge. A silk scarf was presented by Mrs. Vedder, in behalf of Emmanuel Chapter, who hope the high esteem in which Mr. Johnston was held. A Sterling silver belt buckle was presented by C. Crain in behalf of Judea Shrine of which Mr. Johnston is an officer. Several other gifts were presented. Mr. Johnston has served as patron of Emmanuel Chapter for three years. Refreshments were served after the meeting and all enjoyed a delightful evening.

Uncle Joe Cannon
Is Dead at 90

Danville, Ill., Nov. 12 (AP).—"Uncle Joe" Cannon died here today at the age of 90.

In the rambling brick mansion he had built for his bride many years ago, life slowly ebbed away from the aged statesman whose iron handed tactics in congress won him the title of Czar of the House back in the days before his fall in 1910.

Joseph Gurney Cannon was for many years one of the outstanding figures in American public life. He was born at Guilford, N. C., on May 7, 1836, and later became a resident of Illinois which state he served as state's attorney from March, 1861, to December, 1868. He was elected to the forty-third congress, and served continuously until the sixty-seventh congress. He was elected Speaker in the fifty-eighth, fifty-ninth, sixtieth, and sixty-first congresses.
